NEWBOLD SURRENDERS.

Slayer of J. H. Turner Now In the Hand of the Law. Columbia State, Tuesday.

State Detective Newbold, when he saw fit, surrendered to a friend, and had a message sent to Governor Ellerbe that he was coming to Columbia yesterday morning.

On the 10th of the month, W. H. Newbold shot and killed J. H. Turner in Spartanburg county, and, although but he did not arrive. Parties also an offer was made for the arrest of Newbold, he went wherever he wanted to without interference and seemed to be able to travel over several counties at his will. Newbold said, and, no doubt, with a great deal of truth, that he could have made his escape had he wanted to; but at no time did he intend making his escape. He said yesterday that he has never been out of the state except for the 12 hours that it took him to get into the state through North Carolina. From what can be learned, it can hardly be called an arrest, so the account will have to be of the surrender. Newbold's movements up to last Sunoner. Of course Thomasson did not have to use any force in making the arrest. He of all men knew where arrest. He of all men knew where Newbold was at all times ever since they first got into communication. Upon the arrival of Newbold at his A Circular Letter Addressed to the Varihome in Chester, he sent his brotherin-law out to advise the sheriff of the

CAROLINA BUGGY CO. NO BUCCY

ON THE MARKET IS EQUAL to the CAROLINA BUG-GY at the price it is sold. It is not only the best buggy built in the southern states; but is also the best finished, in painting and trimming, while its dura-bility is equal to almost any requirement. The painting never allows it to present a shoddy, makeshift appearance at any stage of its existence. While it is made to sell, it is also made to satisfy the customer sell, it is also made to satisfy the customer and represent a value equal to the price for which it is sold. It is LIGHT AND STRONG and always built of the very best material to be had, and in all stages of its construction it is passed through a thorough, severe and critical inspection by one whose first thought is to have it built as near pefection as human skill can accomplish. We make them to order or keep them in stock, and it will be to your interest to consult us when in need your interest to consult us when in need
